Caracas Coup Attempt Fails

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Civilian mobs and loyal troops beat back another military attempt to seize power Sunday from the government junta which is trying to restore democracy in Venezuela.

Eight hours of street fighting in downtown Caracas reportedly killed about 20 persons and left 200 wounded. Most of the casualties were said to be unarmed youngsters who played a major part in laying siege on the rebel headquarters downtown.

The government of Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal announced one leader of the coup was under arrest and three others were hiding out in the Mexican Embassy.

Instead of allowing them to claim refuge in the embassy under standard South American practices, the government said it would ask for return of the insurgents as common criminals and refuse to let them leave the country.

Hurried From Town

Larrazabal hurried back from a tour of eastern Venezuela and promised the plotters would be punished. Interior Minister Numa Quevedo backed him up and clamped down a curfew from 11 p. m. to 6 a. m.

After the first attempt to seize the government failed July 23 political leaders charged Larrazabal and Quevedo were not tough enough in following up to prevent further coups.

Both attempts involved discontented officers who lost much of their prestige and privileges in the January revolution which overthrew the military dictatorship of Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The government said Sunday's plot was led by military police personnel. The captured insurgent leader was identified as Lt. Col. Jose Hely Mendoza and those in the Mexican Embassy as Lt. Col. Juan de Dios Moncada, Maj. Rafael Pacheco and Maj. Luis Alberto Vivas Ramirez.

The rebels seized Caracas radio stations before dawn and began broadcasting charges that the junta was a failure and high-ranking officials were friends of Perez Jimenez.

Loyal officers regained control within minutes and broadcast calls for the people to support the government. Political leaders, union leaders and others joined in the appeals.

Crowds poured into the streets and the rebels opened fire from their stronghold in the MP barracks.

The fighting continued until mid-afternoon.

MISS AMERICA IS CROWNED—Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss., 21-year-old senior at University of Mississippi, who was chosen Miss America of 1959, is crowned by the outgoing queen of American beauties, Marilyn Elaine Van Derbur, to climax the annual Miss America contest at Atlantic City Saturday night.

'From Tomboy to Miss America'

Mississippi Beauty Begins Year's Reign

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A winsome brunette who sings in a church choir and used to be "the biggest tomboy you've ever seen" today wears the crown of Miss America 1959.

Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss., was resting up in a New York City hotel after a hectic week of competition in the oldest national beauty pageant in America.

The week ended in triumph for the 21-year-old college senior Saturday night when she was named the new Miss America before a capacity Convention Hall crowd of 17,000 and a nationwide television audience.

The 5-foot-5 Southern belle, who has brown eyes and an olive complexion, burst into tears after she was crowned by the outgoing queen, Marilyn Van Derbur of Denver, Colo.

No Idea of Winning

"It might sound trite, but I had no idea of winning—no idea at all," she later told newsmen. "I feel very inadequate. It's something I can't even comprehend."

Winning the title had a special significance for Mary Ann. She lost out last year as Mississippi's entrant in the pageant.

The new Miss America, who weighs 114 pounds and measures 34½-22-35, began her reign by attending the coronation ball early Sunday morning. Her escorts were West Point cadets Victor Lettoff and Charles P. Osttrot.

Two rather interested people never got to the ball. Mary Ann's mother and her attorney-stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. David Williams, were tied up answering long-distance telephone calls from well-wishers.

State Aid Expected By Beaver Schools

The State Board of Education is expected to approve conditionally this evening Beaver Local School District's application for a $326,464 allotment of state funds for additional classroom facilities.

George VanHorn, executive head of Beaver Local District, largest rural school area in Ohio, said the grant will depend upon approval of a half-million levy at the Nov. 4 election to permit repayment of an estimated $100,000 to the state over a period of 23 years.

State aid is sought for additional facilities at the Beaver Local High School near Williamsport; Calculata, Rogers, Elkton and West Point elementary schools.

Communists Blast Ammunition Ship

Red Guns Explode Craft at Quemoy

TAIPEI (AP) — Communist shore batteries blew up a Nationalist ammunition ship on Quemoy beach today as the Red guns resumed bombardment of the Nationalist offshore island after 2½ days of self-imposed silence.

Although U.S. warships presumably had escorted the ammunition ship to the Quemoy area, there was no report of American vessels being in the vicinity of the bombardment.

The American command on Formosa refused to say whether U.S. ships had escorted a convoy to Quemoy today.

Heavy Fire Reported

The heaviest concentration of fire was reported on the Quemoy beaches in an apparent attempt to stop unloading of supplies.

The Nationalist defense ministry said the Red guns unleashed a very heavy bombardment in the early afternoon but that the volume of fire became sporadic later.

The Nationalist-held Tan Islets nearby also were targets, along with Quemoy and adjacent Little Quemoy.

Unconfirmed reports said nationalist planes made their first bombing runs of the Formosa Strait war against mainland gun positions after the shelling of Quemoy resumed. The Nationalists had announced they would bomb the Red artillery posts if the Communists resumed their attack.

Furious Dogfight

These same reports said Nationalist planes were locked in a furious dogfight over Weitou, 7½ miles northeast of Quemoy where the Communists have their biggest guns. The Weitou guns have been blamed for the artillery attacks both on Quemoy beach and on the main military hospital in Quemoy.

In the air, the Nationalists claimed their biggest victory so far—seven Communist MIG jets shot down and two damaged in a blazing 10-minute battle near Swatow, 10 miles south of Quemoy. The Nationalists said one of their Super Sabres was hit but returned to base without difficulty.

There was no immediate announcement that ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet had escorted the supply convoy to Quemoy today. But Peiping radio charged earlier that U. S. warships "have again intruded into China's territorial waters," and the 7th Fleet commander, Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley, said American escorting of supplies to Quemoy is going to become routine.

The Communist bombardment of Quemoy resumed after a lull of more than 62 hours. Two cruisers and six destroyers of the 7th Fleet Sunday escorted two Nationalist landing ships loaded with 300 tons of ammunition to Quemoy.

Work Begins on Final Phase of Ohio Basin Study

Work has been started on the final phase of a corps of engineers study of the Ohio River Basin, according to a report received by Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the 18th Congressional District.

Preliminary work on the comprehensive study of the river basin is nearly finished and work has begun on the final phase, according to Col. Stanley Reiff of the Corps.

The study was authorized by the Senate Public Health Works Committee in 1955 to determine the need for any modifications in the present plan for flood control or other aspects of the basin.

The preliminary stage started last year included meteorological and hydrological studies. The final phase will consist of two parts — a review of the adequacy of the flood control works built, under construction or planned, and a redefining of the broad water resources objectives including flood control, low water regulation, water supply, hydroelectric power, conservation and other matters.

Col. Reiff said preliminary coordination is underway on obtaining basic information from such sources as the weather bureau, Tennessee Valley Authority and the U.S. Geological Survey.

The total estimated cost of the project is $1.7 million.

To date $310,000 has been allotted, and the 1959 appropriation will be $356,000.

Little Trouble Is Encountered

American Ships Escort Nationalist Convoys

ABOARD USS HELENA In the Formosa Strait (AP)—An urgent signal flashed from one of our escorting destroyers—possible submarine contact.

flank ran up a black flag, signaling her sonar equipment had picked up sounds like those of a sub.

The time was 11:15 Sunday morning. This cruiser, flagship of the U. S. 7th Fleet, had just joined the cruiser Columbus and six American destroyers on an important and perhaps historic mission.

The objective was to escort two Chinese Nationalist landing ships carrying 300 tons of ammunition through the Communist blockade to besieged Quemoy Island just off the Red China mainland.

It was the first time an American-escorted convoy was making a run across the Formosa Strait in daylight, running a risk of Red shore batteries or attack from Red torpedo boats or planes.

The convoy marked a new phase in the American policy to help Chiang Kai-shek hold the offshore islands.

A few miles ahead we could see Quemoy. On our right some 12 miles away but within sight was the Communist mainland.

It was now one hour since the Collett's sub report and the destroyer sent word she still was getting contact.

The two Nationalist ammunition ships moved ahead of their American escorts.

Mishaps Kill 21 Over Weekend

11 Children Among Accident Victims

(By The Associated Press)

About half of the persons killed in accidents in Ohio over the weekend were children.

They included two-year-old twins and their eight-month-old sister burned to death in their family's Cleveland apartment. Firemen said the fire apparently was started by a five-year-old brother playing with matches.

Five-year-old William Goins was burned to death when he was accidentally sprayed with gasoline while his father attempted to fix the motor of their stalled auto.

A two-year-old Cleveland girl and an 11-year-old Cleveland boy, a five-year-old Cincinnati boy and a four-year-old suburban Columbus girl drowned in separate accidents.

In Columbus, a one-year-old baby was electrocuted by a defective floor lamp. A three-month-old baby suffocated in Cincinnati, and a nine-year-old Barberton boy was killed when he drove his bicycle into the side of a bus.

The 11 child fatalities were among 21 fatal accidents counted by the Associated Press between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. The fatalities included 10 in traffic, four drownings and seven from other causes.

One Killed, 6 Injured In Weekend Accidents

One man was killed and six persons were injured Saturday and Sunday in four auto accidents investigated by state highway patrolmen. Three persons were arrested.

Patsy Pucci, 62, of RD 3, Alliance, died of internal injuries at 11 a.m. Saturday, four hours after he was involved in a collision with a state highway patrol cruiser at the intersection of Rt. 80 and W. Beach Road just south of Alliance at 7 a.m.

Patrolmen said Pucci pulled his car into the path of the cruiser which was driven by Edgar Wain, 37, of Lisbon.

Wain received a possible concussion, lacerations of the forehead and right knee and abrasions of the right elbow. His passenger auxiliary patrolman Orvil Lake 44, of RD 3, Salem, received a fractured vertebrae, fractures of the ribs and lacerations and abrasions of the left hand.

Lake is in fairly good condition today in Alliance City Hospital. Wain was released after treatment.

The patrolmen were returning to Salem after investigating a car-train wreck that injured Charles W. Fisher, 24, of Kensington. Fisher, driving in the fog, was hurt when his car collided with a train on Rt. 30 just west of East Rochester.

He is in fair condition in the Alliance City Hospital.

Hurt Near Westville

Four persons, including one Salem man, were hurt when the car in which they were riding hit a road sign cement abutment and culvert on Rt. 62 near Westville Sunday at 11:20 p.m.

682 Students Enrolled At Junior High

The Junior High School (the old high school building) opened its doors today to admit 682 seventh, eighth and ninth grade students.

Enrollment of the 682 pupils brought to 2,705 the total number of students enrolled in the elementary and junior high school grades.

The lower grades began classes for the new term last Thursday, the Junior High opening being delayed until today because all laboratory equipment had not been transferred to the city's new senior high building on E. Sixth St.

Another week's delay has postponed the opening of the senior high school until next Monday morning. Installation of all furnishings is expected to be completed this week.

Junior High enrollment figures today were listed by Principal Earle Smith as follows:

Ninth grade (freshmen) 241; eighth grade, 220, and seventh grade, 221.

Ballot Places Sought For Two More Levies

Two additional tax levies are expected to be submitted to the County Election Board for a ballot place at the Nov. 4 general election, boosting the number of special questions and issues to 39.

The board anticipates a levy from the Salem Board of Education for 1.9 mills. The school board will meet tonight, and the levy probably will be submitted Tuesday. It will require a 50 per cent vote.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said the board has been advised by Fairfield Township trustees that they have approved submission of a .15 of a mill levy for fire protection for five years. It will require a 60 per cent vote for passage.

O'Hanlon said the later certifications have delayed ballot printing but said the board hopes to issue servicemen's ballots beginning on Tuesday if the Wilson Printing House of East Liverpool can deliver the ballots in time.

Meanwhile, 46 East Liverpool residents have registered since Tuesday, boosting the total qualified voters to 10,165, O'Hanlon said.

U.S. Awaiting Red China Talks

Demand for Seat In U.N. Expected

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP)—Red China's Mao Tse-tung today gave the green light for talks over the Formosa situation with the United States in Warsaw.

He said such talks "might lead to some results provided both sides wanted to settle the question," Peiping radio reported.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States prepared today for hoped-for early talks with Red China, but kept high its guard against Communist military action in the embattled Formosa Strait.

U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam in Warsaw awaited notice from Chinese Communist Ambassador Wang Ping-nan there that the talks could start.

But the memory that Red China did some of its fiercest fighting in Korea during armistice talks kept the U.S. 7th Fleet on alert around Formosa.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai said over the weekend that he favored a renewal of U.S.-Red China ambassadorial talks on "safe-guarding the peace in the Far East." The United States had tried twice last month to get the talks going again, so the White House warmly welcomed the offer.

Wait a Few Days

Ambassador Beam's orders were to wait a few days and, if no word came from Ambassador Wang, to call the Communist envoy and find out when he was prepared to meet in Warsaw.

Western diplomats braced for a new Communist push to seat Red China in the United Nations. They said the Red Chinese bombardment of the Nationalist offshore islands clearly was aimed not only at probing U.S. intentions but also at stirring up a ruckus on the eve of the 13th U.N. General Assembly starting Sept. 16 at New York.

U.S. determination to carry a big stick while talking softly was evident in the activities of the 7th Fleet. For the first time during daylight Sunday, the U. S. warships convoyed Nationalist supply ships from Formosa to the offshore islands, and it was disclosed they had been doing the same at night since Wednesday.

Payne Is Facing Muskie

Maine Election Pivots On Senatorial Contest

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Maine leads the rest of the country to the ballot box for the last time today in an election pivoting around a vital race for the U.S. Senate.

Republican Frederick G. Payne relied on his Washington experience and a sort of mutual assistance pact with President Eisenhower to fend off the challenge to his Senate seat.

The challenger is Edmund S. Muskie, a popular two-term governor and the best Democratic vote getter ever produced in the Pine Tree State.

The outcome in Maine will help cut the campaign pattern for the congressional election in all the other states in November. The way Maine votes may supply the tipoff on the extent to which Dem-

Lease Drug Co. Opens for Business In New Location

The same quality and service in more pleasant surroundings describes the Lease Drug Co., which began business this morning at its new location at the intersection of N. Broadway and E. 2nd St.

Long a local landmark at its former site on E. State St. and Broadway, the store took on a complete "change of dress" for its opening.

The building was remodeled in modern design by its owners, Customer Parking Inc., all-new interior fixtures were installed by the drug firm.

The street level of the store is partitioned into four sections — main store room, prescription room, office, and stock room and garment fitting room.

Its facilities are highlighted by the latest in prescription department equipment, including two refrigeration units for serums and drugs. Also featured are fluorescent lighting, tile floor and air conditioning.

The basement extends completely under the building, providing ample stock storage space. Heating is by gas.

A paved 15-minute "free parking" space abuts the E. 2nd St. side of the building.

The building has two entrances — the 2nd St.-Broadway door and a rear door from the Farmers Bank parking lot.

Stockholders are: C. W. Kaminsky, president and treasurer; James Schaeffer, vice president and assistant treasurer; Charles Schaeffer, assistant secretary; Robert W. Kaminsky, assistant treasurer; and Mrs. Pauline Carnahan. The store will be staffed by eight persons: C. W. Kaminsky, Charles and James Schaeffer and Joseph Aello, pharmacists; Mrs. Gertrude Reash, Richard Conway, Larry Muntz and Bill Reich, clerks.

Robert W. Kaminsky, associated with his father in the E. State St. Store, will operate The Camera Shop in that location.

The opening of the new drug store, which will have its formal open house in October, marks another chapter in the long business career of the elder Mr. Kaminsky.

The veteran druggist started in business here Jan. 1, 1917, as a partner of Jack Lease. Their drug store was located at the intersection of E. State St. and Lincoln Ave. the site now of Heddleston's Drugstore.

The partners purchased the Broadway-State St. store March 1, 1920. Mr. Lease sold his interest in the store to Mr. Kaminsky in 1922. The latter sold the Lincoln store to Mr. Heddleston in 1949.

Here and There In Our Town

By DONNA AGAN

R. S. McCulloch flew into Chicago last Sunday to spend two days with the Legion Quaker City bandmen. (Mr. McCulloch headed the citizens committee which helped to finance the band's trip to the national convention.)

Salem would have been quite proud of its band when it marched smartly out onto Soldiers Field to open the famous Drum and Bugle Corps pageant. Mr. McCulloch made the comment that he's seen only one other event that matches the spectacular costumes, drilling and music of this pageant, and that is what is called "The Tattoo" which closes the Edinburgh Music Festival in Scotland, when each of the clans is called in with pipes and drums to play at the foot of the castle.

ON MONDAY the Salem crowd watched, along with thousands of other people, the 12-hour long Legion parade down Michigan Ave. Braving the cold windy day were Mrs. Chester Brautigam and Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Dick McLaughlin, Glen Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Lewis and Marlene, John Schneider, Frank Stoerkel, Mrs. Ken Rubenrod, Mrs. Roy Merrill, Mrs. Fred Cope of Damascus, Mrs. Fred Groner, Merle Burson of Lisbon, Lee Hollinger, Mrs. Herb Bortner, Elijah Alexander, Mrs. Norman Eckfeld, Mrs. Al Sanders, Miss Elaine Cavanaugh, Mrs. John Dupal, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Abrams, Mrs. Les Brantingham, Mrs. Robert Ellyson and Mrs. Wade McGhee.

A Chicago TV cameraman caught a wonderful shot of majorette Carolyn Lewis in her glittering gold "uniform" leading the band; then he panned the camera across the other majorettes, Carol Debnar, Martha Dougherty, and Helen Dora Schneider, and right down the whole band as they marched along Michigan Ave.

It's rough going from first place down to fourth, but in as stiff a competition as that was the band was only 6 points away from first place! Salem should still be pleased with the Quaker City Band's fine showing.

THE FIRST PLAY by the Community Players will be presented Sept. 16, 17, 18 at the junior high school auditorium on N. Lincoln; curtain time is 8:30 each night. Howard Dodge is directing "Two Blind Mice," a comedy-farce on government bureaus, which had a good run on Broadway several years back.

The Community Players has been organized as a unit program of the YWCA. This first production is a benefit performance.

Mrs. Robert Hall, executive secretary of the YW, has a big fall and winter program planned for YW members, but it takes equipment and supplies. That is the purpose behind the first play — to raise as much money as possible in order that the YW may be equipped soon. The second purpose, of course, is to re-establish a little theater program for all interested persons in the community.

The cast and backstage committees have faced many trials and tribulations in getting a show together during summer weeks and without a fully-organized group to take over. It is sincerely hoped that Salem will support this first play.

General admission tickets ($1) may be purchased at the following places: Bell's Music Center, Fisher's News Agency and Heddleston Drug Store.

Here's The Answer

BY ANDREW C. LANG

QUESTION: There is a crawl space under our house that is always damp. I have heard all kinds of suggestions on what kind of material to put down to keep the ground moisture from moving up into the house. One of these materials is called a polyethylene plastic film. Is it any good? And is it expensive?

ANSWER: A polyethylene plastic film is the product in which many vegetables and other foods are packaged to keep them fresh. It has been successfully used for covering the ground in a crawl space and thus keeping the moisture from attacking the bottom of the house. It is relatively inexpensive.

QUESTION: We are getting ready to buy a house, but are having a family argument about whether to get a ready-made home or have one built to our own design. Can you tell us the advantages and disadvantages of buying or building?

ANSWER: It might be possible to give you a partial answer if this entire page were at our disposal. Since it isn't, this will have to do: Before you can have a home built to order, you must first acquire a suitable plot in a suitable neighborhood. This is not always as easy as it sounds, because choice locations usually are bought up by development companies or contractors. When you have a house built to order, you get exactly what you want in the way of design, individuality and so on. But—and this is the vital factor to most families—a house built to order necessarily costs more than one which has been built as part of a development.

QUESTION: In putting a compound around the part of the bathtub that is against the wall, should the compound be painted?

ANSWER: The life of the compound will be lengthened by painting it. You can paint it white or the same color as the bathtub or the wall. The painting should be done a day or two after the compound is applied.

Veterans Guide

William Holsinger, Manager of the Cleveland Veterans Administration Regional Office, stated today that approximately 28,000 Korean War veterans in the Ohio Regional Area who started training under the Korean education program, but have since interrupted their studies for more than twelve months, may now find it possible to resume their training as provided under a more liberalized policy recently released by the Veterans Administration.

The law provides in effect that veterans away from the school program more than a year can get back into training if they are able to show that interruption was beyond their control. The new policy re-defines the conditions considered beyond the veteran's control.

The more important conditions found possible under the new policy include obligations or debts that made it necessary to stop training to obtain employment, personal or family illness or death in the family, and a twelve-month period ending during vacation during which time it was not possible to re-enter school.

Veterans interested in re-entering training should contact their local Veterans Administration Office for full particulars of the more liberalized policy of the GI education program. Mr. Holsinger also urged any Korean veterans that are in doubt about their status under the GI Educational Program should visit their nearest VA Contact Office to learn the exact status of their individual educational program.

Keep Those Bags Packed, Dag

Dag Hammarskjöld has dropped out of the headlines, as every good diplomat should. He has been doing what the world has learned to expect him to do when tensions reach the shooting stage and there is danger of war.

Currently he is in Cairo, trying to get the United Arab Republic to quit throwing matches into the gasoline tank. Egypt's President Nasser, who never misses a chance, to take one more crack at the United States, charges Red China has become a victim of direct aggression because it has been warned about the consequences of trying to invade Formosa.

It is the responsibility of the secretary general of the United Nations to get behind the bombast and into the terms on which the Middle East might reach an agreement to live and let live. The task is so difficult and so momentous that it could be undertaken only by someone like Hammarskjöld, who is not, himself, a nationalist.

Premier Ben-Gurion of Israel has provided deeper insight into the difficulties by challenging the prevailing idea that the Middle East is entirely populated by Arabs. He points out there are more non-Arabs than Arabs and hopes for the record the time will come when the Arab bloc led by Nasser may be offset by another bloc including Israel, some non-Nasser nations which are Arab and some which are not Arab.

This is a sample of the complications Dag Hammarskjöld is running into in the Middle East. He has enough problems to keep him busy for a couple of diplomatic lifetimes. But it is to be hoped he will not be so leisurely about his task that he will forget to keep his bags packed.

The next place he may be needed in a hurry is the Taiwan Straits, where the United States has made a commitment that could lead to even greater complications than the commitment which put its troops into Lebanon. Red China does not belong to the United Nations and can't join because it is still technically at war with it, but that is a sample of the complications Secretary General Hammarskjöld is expected to surmount without opening his briefcase.

It isn't far from Cairo to Peiping, as a diplomat flies in the mid-20th century. Perhaps he could work half a week one place and half a week in the other, if necessary.

Higher Than the Summit

The science summit meeting at Geneva—the Second Atoms-for-Peace Conference—overshadows the political summit meeting that has been talked about all this year.

The scientists attending it represent the entire range of knowledge that has been acquired in atomic fission and fusion. They are from 66 countries. They are members of a fraternity of knowledge that is less conscious of political distinctions and differences than any other group of human beings. Yet, they are meeting under the auspices of their governments on a footing of shared interests and purposes that transcends anything which conceivably could happen in a political gathering.

Five thousand persons will attend. They will see and hear everything known in an extravaganza of declassified information and scientific camaraderie that defies the imagination of those familiar with only the political type of international conference.

Their secret is simply that every one of the 5,000 persons present has the same motive, which is to push on with the mastery of the atom. Three years ago, their common interest was atomic fission. Today, every nation of importance is making material progress in atomic fission.

Their common interest this year is atomic fusion; specifically, the control of the hydrogen bomb reaction. If they can help one another how to do that, they will be in a position to release the ultimate source of energy on the earth—water. As one science writer described it, "That would be as if the oceans turned into gasoline, but with thousands of times more energy per gallon."

Obviously, no knowledge of this magnitude could be isolated from international politics. It could be the secret of releasing have-not nations from subservience to major powers whose diplomatic juggling and fumbling have determined men's destinies from the dawn of history.

It is characteristic of the confusion of the times that men's hopes should be pinned on the wrong potentiality—politics, instead of science. It is truth that can make men free, and it is science that can release them from poverty. And today it is science and scientists whose devotion to truth is doing more to improve the lot of mankind than all politicians and diplomats combined.

It could very well be that within 25 years the only summit conference of our era worth remembering will be the Atoms-for-Peace Conference at Geneva, the memorable meeting that laid the groundwork for getting energy out of water.

A Rewarding Experience

The exciting summer camping season has drawn to a close for Boy Scouts throughout the Columbiana and Mahoning County district but due to the never-ending support of adult leaders the scouting program will continue uninterrupted through the fall and winter months.

Nearly 300 scouts have registered for the three-day Jamboree opening Friday at the McKinley Reservation near Lisbon, following the close of the Columbiana Scout Council's camp at Leesville Lake, and many more events are planned to help the boys in their merit badge achievements and climb up the ladder of scout rank.

In the Mahoning Valley Council plans already are being made for a 40th anniversary year at Camp Stambaugh some 15 miles northeast of Salem.

All of the highly successful scouting activities in this area would not be possible if it were not for the volunteer leadership of men whose sense of devotion gives them the rewarding experience of helping to mold boys into useful citizens of tomorrow.

The double features at the movies makes hubby realize what home is without mother.

The average life of women has jumped, says a doctor. Maybe because after a certain age they don't get any older.

Those nice moonlit summer nights often were a sure sign of an early fall, on the part of some young man.

School teachers soon will be setting a nice example by making little things count.

By H. I. Phillips

Once Over

Secretary Dulles just took a nine-day vacation. He probably returned in pretty bad shape from the change. We see his vacation day like this:

1. He is hardly asleep before he is awakened by the terrific disturbance of extreme quiet. "Nothing is happening and it is frightful. He tries to sleep again, but a falling leaf scrapes against the window. A gnat brushes against the screen.

A man accustomed to ultimatums, airplane motors, train whistles, taxicabs and world disorders can't endure things like this.

2. Will dawn ever come? Waiting for it seems an eternity. What can he do? A sharp demand? A five-point dawn program? Absurd. He must wait, ineffective and powerless.

3. The first rays of sun appear. A bird goes tweet-tweet. It is defeating. Other birds chirp. This is direct aggression.

4. He rises, goes out on the porch and look out over the still country. No people! No couriers! No airplane mechanics! No frantic diplomats! No summits! This is too much.

5. He paces porch. His pajamas slip a little. It is the nearest approach to a crisis. He solves it by tightening the strings. No conference, no huddle, no Moscow disapproval. How disconcerting!

6. A sea gull cries. In the hush of the faraway places this is a real threat to peace. He considers the need of a sea gull chirp. He takes a sedative.

7. He goes to breakfast. He gets it without hearing any orders "Fasten your belt!" No trays rattle. There is no interruption by radio messages.

Mr. Dulles is now in a bad way. He would give anything for a world crisis, a press conference or an insult from Khrushchev.

SO IT GOES through the Terrible Day of

Could Even Upset the Boat

California Hoodlum Era of the '70's

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LOS ANGELES — The word "hoodlum" first was applied to juvenile delinquents in San Francisco and Sacramento in the '70's.

They were brutal, footloose 'teeners of both sexes who had been excluded from the sort of jobs then customarily allotted to their kind in normal American communities by Chinese coolies who worked for as little as 10 cents a day.

However, these kids were lazy and irresponsible, too, and employers learned to shun them. They were the first generation born of the adult pioneers of the Gold Rush. There being no employable boys and girls in the helter-skelter phase, pig-tail coolies were welcome to the lesser jobs in factories and stores.

THE CHINESE IMMIGRANTS lived in filth, many of them smoke opium, they were indifferent to American laws except to persecute one another by perjury in American courts, and they brought in hundreds of diseased females under written contracts to practice prostitution. These women could never get out of bondage. If a cinaman married one he had to buy her out or face punishment at the hands of six organized rackets called companies that ran their own courts and executed offenders with hatchet and knife.

In 1878, a special committee of the state senate investigated Chinese immigration and the legislature appealed to the rest of the nation for patience and sympathy. The wowers who had kicked up the civil war were beginning to wave the bloody shirt again, this time in sympathy with about 130,000 furtive, mysterious strangers commonly called heathen whose social and hygienic aspects were loathsome by comparison with even the crude standards of the frontier.

For example, when a Chinese prostitute became useless through disease, it was common practice as noted by policemen who gave testimony, to toss her onto the sidewalk or throw her into a hovel anywhere to die. In the cities of China it was customary to drown baby girls as Americans did away with surplus kittens. Opium addiction was common. Although the drug weakened its victims, they were nevertheless patient and productive workers on a diet of rice and grass or bean sprouts. They rarely had meat, dog for choice.

B. E. LLOYD, of San Francisco, a pundit but something of a fool, published a fat book in 1876 called "Lights and Shades of San Francisco" in which he dealt with the problems of juvenile delinquency in terms similar to those now echoing in New York and Chicago. He thought the Chinks, as they were freely called, were amenable to Christian kindness whereas witnesses before the senate committee scoffed that proposition out of court as native nonsense. However, Lloyd did know his scene and he wrote:

"The hoodlum had his origin in San Francisco, the offspring of San Francisco society. He is acquainted with crime in all its forms. He is neither boy nor man. There are also female hoodlums. A few years ago hoodlumism was unknown. The hoodlum is met more commonly on dimly lighted street corners, in front of the corner grocery, on vacant lots in dark alleys, on public conveyances during excursions and picnics. At night he is in his glory so numerous and bold that it is dangerous for a single individual to travel a quiet street. They congregate on corners, drop insulting remarks, ogle the ladies and stone or beat peaceful Chinese, singing obscene songs. They club and rob businessmen. Street cars are boarded and the drivers 'brained' and passengers put to flight. Working girls and women returning late from factory or workshop are outraged. Policemen are overpowered and beaten."

"PARENTAL AUTHORITY" is rare in San Francisco. The sacred word, home, has lost its significance. Many families live in hotels and boarding houses and eat in restaurants.

In the legislative record, a rarity adorned with the bookplate of the late U. S. Senator James D. Phelan, one altemeyer, a manufacturer of boots, testified that Chinese workers were precocious and would soon become competitive but that, on the other hand, the caucasian juveniles were useless.

Matt Karcher, a former chief of police of Sacramento, said there was nothing for the young Americans to do. He thought the rise of the element called hoodlums was attributable 90 per cent to this situation. Many boys were infected at 12 or 15 by the Chinese prostitutes and medical science could do little about these ailments. The San Francisco police department reported that 5,000 Chinese males were employed as domestic servants of one kind or another to the exclusion of young American girls and of widows with dependent children who otherwise might have been housekeepers, cooks and washerwomen.

Apparently the difficulty finally just petered out. The kids calmed down and all that remained was a strange word imbedded in our language, "hoodlum."

Constitutional Crisis

By DAVID LAWRENCE

States May Have Lost Much of Their Power

A constitutional crisis of major proportions is shaping up for America. It involves far more than the issue of attendance in mixed schools. It involves the broader question of whether the Supreme Court of the United States may suddenly declare that "equal protection of the laws" under the 14th Amendment requires uniformity throughout the nation on all laws affecting citizens generally.

This could mean that the divorce laws of all the states must be the same, income tax laws must be the same, laws regulating labor unions and corporations, respectively, must be uniform throughout the country with regard to all kinds of licenses and privileges which citizens of different states may desire to obtain or enjoy.

Few people realize the potential scope of the 14th Amendment and its far-reaching impact if the present Supreme Court continues its current program of knocking down state laws that it considers socially or psychologically harmful or as involving discrimination between citizens in any field of endeavor.

Many millions of Americans undoubtedly feel that they are being discriminated against because they pay higher taxes to their own states than do citizens elsewhere.

MANY CITIZENS object to the fact that, although they do business across state lines, they must pay local taxes in varying amounts to different states and cities where they sell their wares. If the 14th Amendment means that no state shall deny "equal protection of the laws" to any citizen, the principle could apply as between citizens who live in different states instead of merely as between citizens of a single state.

The theory could be carried to the point where economic inequality can be condemned by the Supreme Court as readily as racial or social inequalities, under the doctrine that it is an obligation of government to guarantee equality as between citizens.

There would be a condition of near chaos in America if the Supreme Court invalidated, for instance, state laws on divorce. Husband could stop paying alimony. Persons who had remarried in one state believing that they were legally divorced in another state could be made subject to various kinds of legal suits.

Yet, while such action may not be imminent, the stark fact is that the Supreme Court has set itself up as having the right to disregard at any moment all legal precedents of the past and to rule on what it believes is socially or psychologically desirable.

Today the slogan of the court, in effect, is that the end justifies the means. This has been taken up far and wide across the nation by many people in an emotional crusade.

Back to School

By TRUMAN TWILL

If it weren't for going back to school, how would mothers and fathers ever know what their offspring looked like with their ears scrubbed, their hair combed and their shoes on?

How would a junior miss ever find out what she looked like in a formal, and how would a junior mister ever know what he looked like in a dinner jacket?

Who would buy all the knock-about clothes that are required for decent coverage of the young in the semi-formal atmosphere of the classroom, the cafeteria and the snack bar?

What would keep school teachers from getting together in angry crowds to demand that something be done about their plight?

When would manufacturers of pencils, tablets, erasers, clipboards and rubber bands have a chance to get rid of their surplus stocks?

When would the mothers of America, a seedy lot on the verge of nervous breakdowns by the end of the summer, have a chance to unload their problems on the teaching profession while they pull selves together in time for Christmas vacation?

What inducement would there be for families to assemble in the breakfastroom five mornings a week to test that good old spirit of togetherness?

Moreover, what would worry warts have to worry about day in and day out if they could not blast off against the uncomfortable fact that there is no substitute for intelligence?

What would the manufacturers of school buses do with their production of these utilitarian vehicles?

How could the chalk manufacturers find a market for their output, and who would be interested in buying blackboard erasers?

Where would a customer go to see a football game on Saturday? How long would the beanie business last?

Who would stand the cost of replacing the back doors that have been banged to pieces by children sade in support of the court's decisions.

THE PUBLIC is being told repeatedly that everything the Supreme Court says is the "Law of the land." Critics say the opposite—that a Supreme Court decision is the "Law of the case" and can be reversed at any time and that it merely covers the parties to the particular case and is not necessarily binding on anybody else.

This fact has not sunk in as yet generally, though most lawyers know it has always been true.

The latest challenge to the idea that the school desegregation decisions are the "Law of the land" in the sense that they actually can compel integration in every state has come from Gov. Almond of Virginia. Himself a former state attorney general and an able lawyer, Mr. Almond made a sensational statement when he said:

"No decision of the Supreme Court of the United States or any subordinate federal court requires or can require this state or any of its political subdivisions to operate any public school, whether integrated or not. . . .

"No federal court is vested with authority under the decision of the Supreme Court to direct, compel or coerce any defendant district (school) superintendent or school board to assign or enroll any pupil in any school, or to do any affirmative administrative act pertaining thereto."

THIS IS REALLY the key to the program through which the Southern States feel confident they can legally avoid forcible integration in the public schools.

What Gov. Almond is saying is that a federal court may order a school to cease segregation—which is a negative ruling, derived supposedly from the 14th Amendment—but this is a far cry from saying a school board must admit anybody who asks to be enrolled just because a federal court has ordered it.

The states have always taken the position that they may be restrained from doing something but they cannot be compelled "affirmatively" to do something. Once a student requests admission and it is denied, this is a separate case to be tried on its merits in the courts. It could mean prolonged litigation. But to say ahead of time that the school board in any community must enroll any applicants is to compel a state to take an affirmative action.

It would be equally illogical and lawless for a federal court to tell a state legislature that, having denied funds for a certain school, it must go ahead and appropriate money to run that school lest it come under disfavor of the court.

If states have lost their power to refrain from taking affirmative action on their own and if their legislatures or subdivisions of government are subject to compulsion to pass laws or issue diplomas under federal court orders, then the constitutional crisis ahead could result in the complete abolition of state governments and the emergence of the federal judiciary as the supreme legislative as well as judicial power in the country.

The New York Herald Tribune

going to and fro from dawn till dark? How would it ever be discovered that "Johnny can't read" and that "Susan is cute but hasn't a brain in her head"?

How would anyone know who was marked by destiny to be the "sterling citizens of tomorrow" and the "intelligentsia"?

What would be the justification for the striving and straining of competitive existence, if a taxpayer could not point to a new schoolhouse and say to himself, "I helped to build that!"

When would parents ever have a plausible reason to sit down with their children and say, "I have been meaning to have this talk with you for some time. Now look. . . .

In short, when would mothers ever get any housekeeping done?

Leukemia Betrayed by Abnormal Blood Cells

A reader asks for a "complete" discussion of leukemia and whether a person can have this disease and not know it.

Of course I cannot begin to report everything that is known about leukemia in a few words; it is possible for a person to have leukemia and not know it. Leukemia is frequently discovered unexpectedly when the blood is examined.

Leukemia is a disease of unknown origin, probably involving the tissues which manufacture the white blood cells. It is characterized by the appearance of immature and abnormal white blood cells in the blood stream.

SEVERAL VARIETIES of leukemia are recognized. They are classified on the basis of the kinds of immature or abnormal cells found and whether the disease progresses rapidly or is chronic. From the patient's standpoint, the important point is usually whether leukemia is acute or chronic. The disease may start suddenly and then become chronic — but it does not always do so.

There are some reasons for believing that leukemia is becoming more common. Probably there are about 15,000 to 20,000 patients with leukemia in the United States alone and about 5,000 newly discovered cases of the disease each year. In addition to the abnormal white blood cells, leukemia is frequently associated with enlargement of the spleen, changes in the bone marrow and anemia.

In acute varieties such treatment as is available is aimed at slowing down the course of the disease so that it will not become chronic. Sometimes this happens and sometimes not.

Diagnosis is comparatively simple. It is made by examining the blood under a microscope. The white cells are counted. Some blood is also smeared on a glass slide, stained with special dyes, and examined under the microscope for abnormal cells.

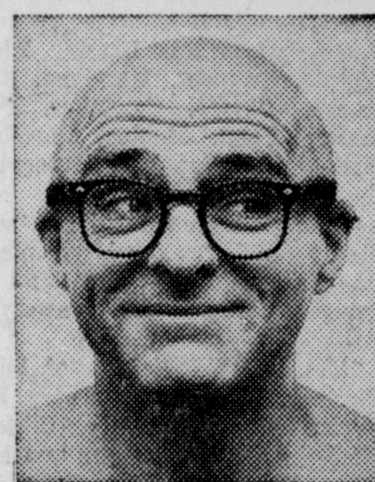

MANY TREATMENT methods are under trial. Some have particular promise. The patient may be given blood transfusions, nutritious foods, vitamins and the like. Arsenic solutions, ACTH or cortisone, and a number of chemical agents have their place in treatment. The use of X-rays or radioactive substances of other sorts are also helpful. More and more research on leukemia is taking place. Some of it is supported by grants from the Leukemia Society of New York City, 67 Wall Street.

Today one can feel fairly confident that progress in the control of leukemia will be forthcoming, though how soon a major breakthrough will be made is impossible to say.

EAST STATE ST., SALEM

Mrs. Stephen M. Wilkins

Buta-Wilkins Vows Heard In St. John's Romanian Church

Stephen Mills Wilkins and his bride, the former Miss Dolores Sylvia Buta, are honeymooning in the East, following their wedding Saturday at 3:30 p.m. in St. John's Romanian Orthodox Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Buta of Depot Road. Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Wilkins of North Canton are parents of the bridegroom.

The palm-banked altar was enhanced with vases of white gladioli, with ivy and baby's breath arrangements at the windows. The family pews were marked by large white bows.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony were the Rev. Traian Vintila, pastor of St. John's, and the Rev. Stephen Feica, pastor of the Akron Romanian Orthodox Church.

Leo Copacia of Akron, cousin of the bride, was soloist. His selections were "O Promise Me," "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer." He was accompanied by Mrs. Esther Odoran of Salem.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of Skinner's peau de faille. The bodice, fashioned with a boat neckline and long sleeves, and the waist were embellished with Alencon lace motifs, accented with seed pearls and iridescent beads. The full, open pleated skirt extended to a chapel train.

A crown of seed pearls and threestones held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. Her jewelry, a pearl necklace and earrings, were gifts of the bridegroom. Her bridal bouquet was created of Fuji mums, stephanotis and baby's breath in a cascade arrangement. A peacock blue velvet gown was worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. George Bursan of Kent, cousin of the bride. The street-length gown was styled over princess lines with a V-neckline and cap sleeves. Her head dress, a wreath of tiny flowers and seed pearls, featured a shoulder-length veil. Light aqua was the shade of her shoes and headpiece.

Miss Susan Wilkins of North Canton, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Amelia Buta of Salem, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Paul Meyer of Cleveland, former college roommate of the bride, were the bridesmaids.

Their crimson fuchsia gowns were styled identically to the gown worn by Mrs. Bursan. Their shoes and headpieces were light pink.

The attendants wore elbow-length gloves and single strand of pearls, gifts of the bride. They carried cascade bouquets of white Fuji mums and pompons.

John Vincent Barson of Fern dale, Mich., nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. The pillow which he carried was used at the bride's mother's wedding 28 years ago, and at the wedding of her sister Mrs. John Barson, eight years ago.

George Bursan of Kent was Mr. Wilkin's best man. The ushers were Richard Buta of Salem, brother of the bride, Jack Fetzer and William Bushong of North Canton.

ARE THEY MY REAL PARENTS?

How could this eighteen year old girl know for sure? Fourteen years earlier, when war was raging in Europe, she had been separated from her parents who were thrown into a slave-labor camp. Since then, the parents had tried vainly to trace their daughter. At last, through one of the OVERSEAS AID Programs of America's religious faiths, the family was reunited. But only when the young girl heard her mother sing a hauntingly familiar lullaby did she know for sure—they were her parents.

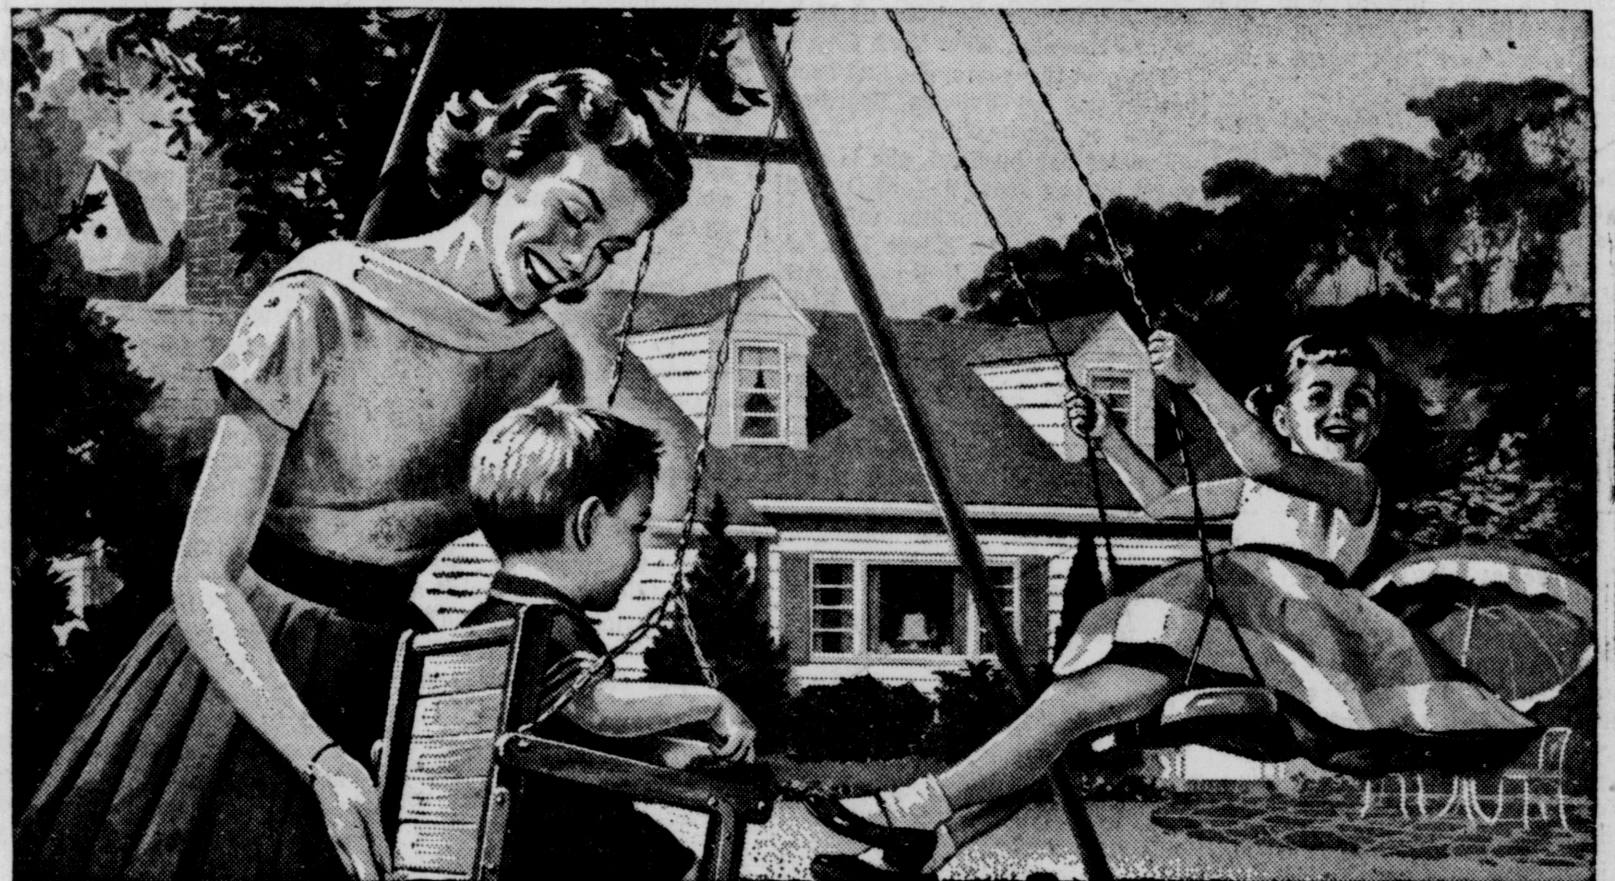

Aiding displaced people is only one of the vital works done through religious overseas relief programs. Support your faith's program.

Why did you buy a house?

WHEN YOU decided to buy a house, you were probably thinking primarily of your wife and children.

You wanted to be sure that they would have a nice home to live in. Another concern was for the environment in which your children would grow up. You wanted good schools, play space, nice neighbors.

These are also good reasons for making sure that your family can keep it if something should happen to you.

Metropolitan offers several ways for you to make sure that your family will be left with a deed instead of a debt.

A Metropolitan Mortgage Term Plan is one way. It is designed to cover the usual type of home mortgage, which decreases as payments on the principal are made. The face amount of the insurance also decreases annually, so that the level premium is relatively inexpensive.

Another way, more satisfactory for most younger men, is a Metropolitan Whole Life policy. This is permanent insurance.

In addition to assuring that funds will be available for payment of the mortgage in the event of death, it also builds cash and loan values which furnish a nest egg to help take care of payments in case of illness or other emergency.

And because the face value does not decrease, it can be used for continuing protection or be fitted into your retirement plans after the mortgage is paid off.

Let your Metropolitan Representative help you choose a plan for your family situation and budget. He will be pleased to give you the facts about this insurance. So, why not call him today.

The Red Chinese made no effort to interfere.

Not all Red China's actions over the weekend were conciliatory. The Chinese Communist regime's Central Committee announced full mobilization had been ordered.

It was not clear whether full mobilization was part of a shift by Red China to a war footing or whether it was simply another effort to make a great leap forward in the Peiping regime's industrialization and agricultural build-up.

Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson criticized the Eisenhower administration for what he called a drift toward war with China without friends or allies and over issues "not worth a single American life."

He said the administration seems to have decided "to defend Quemoy, even though it leads to world war." The administration, he said, has maneuvered itself to a point where it has lost control of the situation, at the mercy of both Chiang Kai-shek and the Communists.

One Killed

Injured were: the driver, Ronald E. Burke, 21, of RD 4, Salem, lacerations of the forehead; Clifford F. Fishel, 19, of RD 1, Canfield, contusions and abrasions of the neck, back and fingers; Frank Lanterman, 27, of RD 1, Canfield, multiple lacerations of the face and head and back injuries, and Royce Miller, 21, of RD 3, Canfield, possible chest injuries.

Lanterman and Miller are both in fairly good condition today in the Alliance Hospital. Burke and Fishel were released after treatment.

State patrolmen said Burke's car went off the right side of the road before striking a road sign, bridge abutment and culvert.

He was cited for reckless operation.

Cited After Mishap

Dorothy J. Alek, 22, of MC 1, Salem was charged with failing to stop at a stop sign after she caused a car operated by Jeff L. Roberts, 16, of RD 1, Salem, to strike a mail box on the Georgetown Road eight miles south of Salem at 7:20 p.m. Sunday.

Patrolmen said Roberts struck the mail box in avoiding a collision with Miss Alek's auto.

William W. Crook, 25, of Youngstown, was cited for driving an unsafe vehicle after he lost control of his auto and struck an embankment on Rt. 14, one mile east of Washingtonville, at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

ican escorts toward the beach. Now they were accompanied by four small Nationalist patrol boats for the remaining three or four miles to shore.

On the flag bridge of the Helena, Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley, the 7th Fleet commander, received a stream of reports on the progress of the operation.

Reached Beach
He said the landing ships had reached the beach and so far there were no reports of any air activity or artillery from shore.

There had been no Red shelling for the previous 24 hours and little or no bombardment in the previous two days.

At 12:35 another message came from the Collett. Beakley said, "We now evaluate the sounding as a wreck of a ship on the bottom of the sea. It's pretty doubtful that it's a sub."

Then he added with a smile, "We sank too many ships in here in the last war. We keep running into wrecks all the time."

No one had been too much worried by the sub report, although it provided the only moment of anxiety of the operation.

Beakley and his chief of staff, Capt. Arthur F. Spring, had their lunch brought to them, on trays while they remained on the flag bridge.

Overhead were jet vapor trails, from Nationalist planes flying cover for the convoy.

of a daylight convoy to the beleaguered island, although Beakley disclosed that his ships had been shepherding supply ships to Quemoy at night since last Wednesday.

The American action challenged Peiping's recent proclamation extending Red China's territorial waters 12 miles out from the shore and beyond Quemoy. The escorting ships remained some seven miles off the Communist mainland.

Peiping radio charged the American ships with violating Chinese waters and broadcast a "serious warning" from the Foreign Ministry. The warning was repeated again today.

The furious air battle took place Sunday over the Formosa Strait, 23 miles east of the Tanghai base at which the Communists recently based 50 MIG17s.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, U. S. Air Force vice chief of staff who arrived on Formosa, personally congratulated the Nationalist fighter pilots when they returned to Taoyuan air base south of Taipei.

No New Developments In Kroger Safe Theft

Authorities are pressing a search today for thieves who hauled away a safe containing about $10,000 in cash and checks from the Kroger Store here early Saturday morning.

No new developments in the case have been reported by the county sheriff's department which is conducting the investigation.

The thieves used a stolen wrecker to haul away the safe. They forced open a window, wrapped a chain around the 4,000-pound safe and pulled it through the plate glass window.

The bandits transferred the safe from the wrecker to another truck on Butcher Road off Rt. 14, east of Salem and abandoned the wrecker on the Jersey-Ridge Road. The vehicle had been stolen earlier from the Penick Auto Wrecking Shop on the S. Egypt Road, it was ascertained later.

Maine

Payne has acknowledged that he, as did presidential assistant Sherman Adams, received favors from Bernard Goldfine, the wealthy Boston industrialist who came under scrutiny of a House subcommittee and subsequently was cited for contempt of Congress.

Muskie has kept silent on all this, on the assumption that voters can size up the facts for themselves.

The consensus of Maine political writers is that Muskie will take Payne's measure today. If he does, Democrats around the country can be expected to draw a bead on Adams and his acceptance of Goldfine gifts.

The Democrats also might open up a heavier fire against the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy. Muskie has been telling the people of Maine that not enough has been done to win over uncommitted nations and that America's defenses aren't equal to meeting the Communist threat. Payne has been pointing to the record—no shooting wars.

Eisenhower wired Payne Saturday "my strong conviction that you are needed in the U.S. Senate . . . to continue the stalwart support which you have given this administration."

Democrat Clinton A. Clauson, a former internal revenue collector, hopes to take over Muskie's chair in the statehouse at Augusta. But even the most optimistic Democrats rated his victory chances far lower than Muskie's. His Republican opponent is former Gov. Horace A. Hildreth.

The lineup for House races: Republican Robert Hale seeking a ninth consecutive term in a battle with Democrat James C. Oliver.

Republican Clifford G. McIntire trying for a fourth term, opposed by Democrat Gerald J. Grady, University of Maine professor.

Democrat Frank M. Coffin bidding for a second term against Neil S. Bishop, a Republican who backed Muskie for governor.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (18)—Inside the Station

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

Years of rocket research, testing, building, successes and failures—and great expense—will precede the building of any permanent manned space station on the scale envisioned above. But if men feel compelled to explore the Moon and planets at first hand, currently available means of propulsion (liquid or possibly solid-fuel rockets) require that some sort of orbiting station be built, although not necessarily this large and complicated.

Today's fuels are not sufficiently powerful to propel a man-carrying vehicle from the surface of the Earth, land it on another member of the solar system and return it to Earth. New discoveries in the field, however, could change that situation completely.

Yet whether or not it is needed for travel to another planet, science will want such a station someday—as an observatory free from atmospheric interference; a global weather plotter; a world-wide television, radio or telephone relay center; a gravity-free hospital where heart diseases may be studied or unfiltered sun rays used in the treatment of cancer.

Cutaway drawing shows some of the details of a station built after the von Braun spinning wheel concept. At an altitude of 1,075 miles, it completes one revolution about the Earth every two hours. Elevator and net ladder, center, lead from central entrance and exit to the main sections. Spinning of the rim provides artificial gravity.

At left is a communications room. At extreme lower left, the Earth is studied on several viewing screens showing details at various distances. Left of center, astronomers study a distant galaxy.

At right of panel a Moon rocket is in the final stages of assembly. Because it will never enter the atmosphere, this vehicle can be of lightweight, streamlined design. Crew quarters are contained in sphere at top. Fuel load is small, since its orbital velocity will give the Moon rocket a "running start" to escape Earth's gravity.

Next: Men on the Moon.

Avila's Pinch Single Leads Indians Over White Sox 4-3

Ray Narleski Wins In Relief

Donovan's Scoreless Streak Snapped at 21

CLEVELAND (AP)—Just when it looks as though the Cleveland Indians have a chance to move up, here come the Yanks.

The Tribe's 4-3 victory over Chicago Sunday in the rubber game of the series with the second-placers put the Indians in the thick of a fight for the first division.

Baltimore and Detroit now are tied for fourth place. Cleveland, only a game behind, bumps into New York Tuesday and Wednesday nights for its final 1958 series with the league leaders.

Today is an off-day for the entire league. For Tuesday night Manager Joe Gordon will use Cal McLish on the mound, and on Wednesday's Back - the - Indians night Don Mossi will pitch.

Bob Avila was the hitting hero of Sunday's game. A small home in his face was broken by a grounder in pre-game drill last Wednesday, and he had been watching the game from the bench until the eighth inning. Then after Rocky Colavito had singled and gone to third on Woody Dietz's double, Avila pinch-singled for Ray Narleski, the winning pitcher, scoring both runners.

Starter Don Farrarese struck out the side in the first inning but fell two runs behind when Ray Boone homered after a walk in the second. Al Smith's double and Sherm Lollar's single added another tally in the third.

Farrarese limited the visitors to one hit in the fourth through sixth innings, and they got their fifth and last hit off Narleski. Morrie Martin retired the Chicagoans 1-2-3 in the final frame.

Dick Donovan's string of 21 scoreless innings was snapped in the fourth inning by Minnie Minoso's single after Larry Doby doubled. Vic Power's home run in the seventh, his 14th of the season made it 3-2.

Grady Metz Wins Golf Club Title

Grady Metz won the club championship at the Valley Golf Club in Columbiana for the ninth time Saturday when he shot an even par 70 over 18 holes to defeat second place Ralph Knepper by three strokes.

Knepper, the defending champion since 1956, ended with a 73.

Art Rohrer and Warren Laughlin tied for third with 76 while in fourth place was Ed Knox, Bill Wagner and Dick Mahon each with 77s.

Steve Pavelka was fifth with a 79.

Other finishers were: John Murphy, 80; Gene Billett, 81; John DeLucia, 81; Jerry Kyle, 82; Dale Klingensmith, 84; Ed Brooks, 85; Frank Entenken and Tom Richardson, 86; Ray Mercer, 87 and Jim Phillips, 93.

The final club tourney will be held Sept. 20 and will be a handicap 18-hole affair.

Pitching — Pete Ramos, Senators, beat the Yankees a second straight time with a six-hitter, this one 1-0 with six strikeouts and two walks in first game of double-header. Yankees won nightcap 7-0 on Duke Maas' four-hitter.

Hitting — Ed Bailey, Redlegs, won opener with pinch-hit, three-run homer with two out in the ninth, then tripled and singled for a run in nightcap in 6-4, 9-2 sweep against the Phillies.

Ramos Shuts Out Yankees 1-0; Boston, Kansas City Victors

(By The Associated Press)

The veep should have spoken up a bit sooner.

It wasn't until August 19 that Vice President Nixon, taking in a ball game at Washington, told Pete Ramos "I expect you to win 17 games."

"But I've only won 11 and I've never won more than 12," said the Senators' slim right-hander. "And there's not much of this season left."

"I know you can do it," answered the veep.

Ramos said he'd try.

Try? Well, the kid from Cuba has won three of five since and has pitched successive six-hit shutouts against the New York Yankees, en route to their 24th American League pennant.

Ramos extended his 'scoreless string against the champs to 22 1-3 innings Sunday, giving Washington its first 1-0 victory in five years, before the Yankees made one of their infrequent late shows of strength by winning the nightcap 7-0 on Duke Maas' four-hitter.

The split gave the Yankees a final 12-10 standing against the last place Nats.

Embroski Nips Katich 2-1; Stepanics, Jacks Win As Herrons Lose Tourney

A full slate of games was played Saturday and Sunday in the second annual Salem Invitational Softball tourney.

On Saturday, Salem Jack's Soho nipped Canton Dumont Sports 4-3 on the strength of Bill Odorizzi's solo homerun, Massillon Superior Meats beat New Brighton, Pa. AC 6-0, Akron Red's Bar won over Youngstown Aerolite 3-1 and Canton Freedom for Congress blanked East Greenville's Hank's Tavern 3-0.

On Sunday, Canton Lattavo Bros. beat Youngstown Local 131 2-1 and Midland, Pa. Muzzy's Bar 8-3, Toronto St. Joseph's defeated Steubenville Pasquarellas 3-1, Butler Serventi's nipped Midland, Pa. 1212 2-1, Toronto Flamingo beat Beaver Falls, Pa. Zirat Electric 4-3, Stepanic's Tavern shut out Herron Transfer 7-0 and Akron Red's Bar beat Akron Club DeLissa 5-0.

BUTLER advanced into the semifinals of the winners bracket as Joe Embroski bested Fats Katich. Katich had hurled 44 consecutive scoreless innings in tourney play stretching over two years only to have it broken by Butler's two runs in the third.

Nick Pakutz singled to start the frame, George Laconi sacrificed him to second and was safe himself on a bad throw. Sam Muto advanced both men with a bunt. Regis Laconi popped out. Dick Rieder then singled scoring Pakutz and G. Laconi.

Midland got one in the fifth when Bob Boston homered over the scoreboard.

In the seventh, Boston led off with a triple but Embroski ended the game by fanning the next three men. The winner struck out 14 and Katich seven.

EACH TEAM had only three hits. Katich has now permitted just seven hits in 49 innings in tourney play.

Akron Red's Bar also moved into the semi-finals of the winner's bracket with their win over Club DeLissa.

Hutton pitched two-hit ball in blanking his crosstown rivals.

Evens was the loser being touched for four raps. Hutton fanned five and Evens nine.

Bill Buckman hurled four-hit ball as Stepanics eliminated Herrons. He also had two hits as did Herb Reed and Dick Dougherty.

The winners got six hits off loser Don Fife including a solo blast by Reed in the fourth. The winners wrapped up the game with six in the sixth with three of the two games when it started, lost two of three at Milwaukee and were third, 9½ games back, going into the final four at Pittsburgh Friday night.

They came out with a 3-1 edge in the series, holding the world champions to an 11-11 standoff for the season with a doubleheader split in the finale Sunday. They won 4-1 after Warren "The Wonder" Spahn had taken the opener 3-1 for the Braves, his 19th victory.

It was the last chance anybody had of catching the Braves, who lead by 7½ with 16 games to play. But the Pirates, who have finished last or next to last for the past eight years, went a long way toward nailing down second place, taking a two-game lead over third place San Francisco.

The Chicago Cubs swept a pair from the Giants 6-4 and 4-1. Los Angeles hammered St. Louis 7-5 and Cincinnati grabbed a 2½-game hold on fourth place by taking two at Philadelphia 6-4 and 9-2. Spahn's 243rd victory in the majors put him within one of his ninth 20-victory season—a record for southpaws in the big time.

Spahn battled in a tie with Ron Kline (12-14) until Wes Covington, who singled home a run in the first, rapped a two-run double in the eighth.

Vern Law (12-11) then blanked the Braves, who chopped their magic number to 10, on four hits before needing relief in the nightcap ninth. Lew Burdette (16-10) was the loser.

Walt Marlyn's 23rd and 24th homers were good for three runs and Lee Walls 24th, a three-run shot in the eighth, then wrapped up the opener for the Cubs and rookie Bob Anderson (2-1). Dick Drott (7-11) followed with a three-hitter backed up by Ernie Banks' 44th homer and clinching two-run eighth-inning double.

Banks' home run, off loser Ruben Gomez (8-12), ended a shut-out duel in the seventh and matched his major league record for shortstops, set in 1956. Mike McCormick (11-8) lost the opener.

For the Reds, Hal Jeffcoat (6-8) was the first game winner and Dick Farrell (7-9) the loser, both in relief. In the nightcap, Joe Nuxhall (12-10) won, Seth Morehead (1-5) lost.

Dodger Johnny Podres (13-12) won with relief help—hitting his major league high after losing nine in a row on the road. Larry Jackson (12-11) lost it, his first defeat ever by the Dodgers in St. Louis.

FIGHT RESULTS Bologna, Italy—Teddy Wright, 150½, Detroit, stopped Gunter Hase, 147½, Germany, 10.

Muskegon, Mich.—Kenny Lane, 137, Muskegon, Mich., outpointed Orlando Zulueta, 137½, Cuba, 10.

Johannesburg, South Africa — Mike Holt, 173½, Johannesburg, outpointed Roque Maravilla, 173½, Nampa, Idaho, 10.

FANS LACK TRACK CLEVELAND (AP)—For the first weekday since last May 27, Cleveland area horse race fans are without a track. But the break is a short one. The final 44 day meeting of the Ohio racing season opens at Cranwood Race Track Tuesday.

TRY SALEM NEWS WANT ADS

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

I give it to you as fact that President Eisenhower virtually roared his anger over the long list of arson, murder, violence and other crimes committed by underworld powers who have seeped into strong unions.

Only recently the President told his secretary of labor, James Mitchell, to prepare the strongest special labor message possible. This will be dispatched to the new Congress early in January. President Eisenhower, not an amateur at the clashing of men and guns, told intimates that it was unbelievable that such racketeering could exist—and that he wanted laws for which he personally could fight.

Mr. Eisenhower said that he would give such laws top priority. He would fight for them with the vigor shown in his campaign for reorganization of the Pentagon and in his drive for his foreign aid program. And even this early, Jim Mitchell is beginning to plan such a labor message.

But long before the President swings into this battle against the looters, the raw piracy of those who have invaded some unions will become a noisome campaign issue.

THIS WAS OBVIOUS to those who sat in two tightly closed, off-the-record sessions of the Republican National Committee in Chicago's Hotel Blackstone. These were held on Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 26, and Wednesday morning, Aug. 27.

There was no talk of any consequence about fighting unions. There was talk, however, of how to meet the counterattack of union chiefs and the funds contributed by these officials to the Democrats.

Of course, it was the consensus that they make an issue of the corruption discovered by the McClellan committee.

But this will be a two-party issue in this two-party system of ours. The Democrats aren't going to sit by and catch it without pitching some themselves. Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler said recently:

"The Democratic party as refrained from making political capital out of the fact that labor leaders who have engaged in corruption and embezzlement have been supporting candidates nominated by the Republican party. But it is difficult to maintain such a policy if the Republican party is to misuse the testimony before the McClellan committee to attack union leaders who have supported Democratic candidates."

BUT WHILE BOTH parties are attacking crooked labor chiefs, someone should cry out against those really responsible for permitting some unions to become the private money boxes of the mobs.

Someone has, in fact, started to place the blame quite frankly—right on the rank-and-file—where much of it belongs. That someone is Arthur Goldberg, who is, in effect, labor's own attorney general as special counsel to the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee.

The other day Mr. Goldberg denounced what he called "slot-machine unionism."

The erudite crusading counselor said it on Labor Day and it would be desecrating decency to lose his remarks because of the great American weekend:

"Decent and honest 'bread-and-butter' trade unionism can, unless nurtured by a dedicated leadership and an active and enlightened membership, degenerate into what I choose to call 'slot machine unionism,' which may readily result in a toleration of corruption and racketeering domination of a labor union."

"WHEN UNION members regard their unions solely as slot machines which may pay back a quarter for each nickel invested, or as an insurance policy that can be obtained at little cost, then they are devaluing their unions and preparing the way for their betrayal by leaders devoid of moral standards and senseless to their higher obligations to their members and to the public."

"In my opinion, where corruption exists in a union, responsibility rests not alone with the leadership but, equally, if not primarily, with the union membership."

"A certain recipe for corruption in the leadership is lethargy in the membership. Union members tend to get the sort of leadership they deserve. Frankly, they have often gotten better leadership than their degree of participation would suggest they deserve."

It's about time the rank-and-file membership did the revolutionary thing Break the chains which bind you to your television sets. Get into the fight others are making for you or you'll wind up as everybody does who toys with slot machines—a loser.
